Parade ready

Volunteers from the USS Saratoga Museum Foundation in North Kingstown load a F9F-2 fighter jet onto a trailer Saturday in preparation for the Bristol Fourth of July parade held on Monday. The aircraft, which has been extensively restored by the museum's volunteers, is the same model as the one flown by baseball great Ted Williams in the Korean War. Although it is not the exact plane he flew, Williams's jersey number and name are painted on the aircraft. Helping move the plane are North Kingstown residents John Gibbons (front, from left) and Anthony Victoria Jr.
